	ACCUSATION (Christina Villarreal, Ph.D.)

1	A. Section 726 of the Business and Professions Code provides that the commission of
2	any act of sexual abuse, misconduct, or relations with a patient, client or customer
3	constitutes unprofessional conduct and grounds for disciplinary action.
4	B. Section 729 of the Code provides that a psychologist who engages in sexual
5	contact with a patient or client, or with a former patient or client when the relationship was
6	terminated primarily for the purpose of engaging in those acts, is guilty of sexual
7	exploitation.
8	C. Section 2960 of the Business and Professions Code states in pertinent part that the 9	Board of Psychology may suspend, revoke, or place on probation a licensee for 10	unprofessional conduct which is defined to include, but is not limited to any of the 11	following causes:
12	(i) Violating any rule of professional conduct promulgated by the board and set
13	forth in regulations duly adopted under [Chapter 6.6 of Division 2 of the Business
14	and Professions Code].
15	(k) Violating any of the provisions of [Chapter 6.6 of Division 2 of the Business and
16	Professions Code] or regulations duly adopted thereunder.
17	(o) Any act of sexual abuse, or sexual relations with a patient or former patient
18	within two years following termination of therapy, or sexual misconduct that is 19	substantially related to the qualifications, functions or duties of a psychologist.
20	D. Section 2960.1 of the Code provides that "any proposed decision or decision
21	issued under this chapterthat contains any finding of fact that the licenseeengaged in
22	any act of sexual contactwhen that act is with a patient, or with a former patient within
23	two years following termination of therapy, shall contain an order of revocation. The
24	revocation shall not be stayed by the administrative law judge."
25	E. Section 2936 of the Business and Professions Code provides that the Board shall 26	establish as its standards of ethical conduct relating to the practice of psychology, the
27	"Ethical Principles and Code of Conduct" published by the American Psychological
28	Association (APA). Those standards shall be applied by the Board as the accepted standard of care in all Board enforcement policies and disciplinary case evaluations. 1 F. American Psychological Association Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code 2 3 of Conduct, Ethical Standard 10.05, Sexual Intimacies with Current Therapy Clients/Patients, provides that "Psychologists do not engage in sexual intimacies with 4 current therapy clients/patients. Ethical Standard 10.08, Sexual Intimacies with Former 5 6 Therapy Clients/Patients, provides that "Psychologists do not engage in sexual intimacies with former clients/patients for at least two years after cessation or termination of 7 therapy," and "Psychologists do not engage in sexual intimacies with former 8 clients/patient even after a two-year interval except in the most unusual circumstances. 9 10 Psychologists who engage in such activity after the two years following cessation or termination of therapy and of having no sexual contact with the former client/patient bear 11 12 the burden of demonstrating that there has been no exploitation, in light of all relevant factors, including (1) the amount of time that has passed since therapy terminated; (2) the 13 nature, duration, and intensity of the therapy; (3) the circumstances of termination; (4) the 14 client's/patient's personal history; (5) the client's/patient's current mental status; (6) the 15 16 likelihood of adverse impact on the client/patient; and(7) any statements or actions made by the therapist during the course of therapy suggesting or inviting the possibility of a post 17 termination sexual or romantic relationship with the client/patient." 18 G. American Psychological Association Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code 19 of Conduct, Ethical Standard 3.04, Avoiding Harm, provides that psychologists must take 20 reasonable steps to avoid harming their clients/patients and to minimize harm where it is 21 22 foreseeable and unavoidable. H. Section 125.3 of the Code provides, in part, that the Board may request the 23 administrative law judge to direct any licentiate found to have committed a violation or 24 violations of the licensing act, to pay the Board a sum not to exceed the reasonable costs 25 26 of the investigation and enforcement of the case.

I. Section 2964.6 of the Code provides that an administrative disciplinary decision that imposes terms of probation may include, among other things, a requirement that the licensee who is being placed on probation pay the monetary costs associated with 1 monitoring the probation. 2 3 FIRST CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE 4 (Unprofessional Conduct, Sexual Relations with Patient/Former Patient, 5 Violation of Rules of Professional Conduct) 6 4. At all times relevant to this matter, Respondent has been licensed as a psychologist 7 in the State of California. 8 Patient² sought psychotherapy from Respondent in approximately May 2009 to 5. 9 address depression following a difficult breakup with a girlfriend. Patient saw Respondent on a 10 weekly basis from May 2009 through November 2009. Over the course of therapy, Respondent 11 and Patient began to engage in social interactions such as emailing and on line communications, 12 and discussing their personal lives during therapy sessions. 13 6. In late November 2009, Patient informed Respondent during a scheduled therapy 14 session that he planned to discontinue his therapy. Patient and Respondent discussed the fact they 15 wished to engage in a social, dating relationship. Respondent informed Patient that the 16 psychologist patient relationship had to end before they could begin a personal relationship, and 17 admonished him not to tell anyone as she could lose her license. Patient and Respondent 18 arranged a social date for approximately a week after the last therapy session. 19 7. Between December 2009 and September 2013, Respondent and Patient had an 20 intermittent sexual relationship. The sexual relationship continued even after Patient moved away 21 from the Bay Area. Respondent and Patient continued to exchange email and text messages until 22 approximately May 2014. 23 8. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action pursuant to Business and Professions 24 Code sections 2960 [unprofessional conduct]; and/or 726 [sexual misconduct]; and/or 729 [sexual 25 exploitation]; and/or 2960(k) [violating laws or regulations governing the practice of 26 psychology]; and/or 2960(0) [sexual relations with a patient or former patient]; and/or 2936 27 ² The patient in question is unidentified to protect privacy. Respondent is aware of Patient's identity. 28

1	[violation of APA Code of Ethics]; and/or the AMA Ethical Principles of Psychologists and Code
2	of Conduct, Ethical Standards 10.03 and/or 10.08 [sexual intimacies with current and/or former
3	patient); and/or Ethical Standard 3.04 [Avoiding Harm]. Respondent proposed a social/sexual
4	relationship with Patient during a therapy session, terminated therapy with Patient in order to 5	enter into a social/sexual relationship, and engaged in a personal and sexualized relationship with
6	Patient within days of termination of therapy. Respondent acted upon her own perceived desire
7	for a relationship in a manner that was not designed to avoid or minimize foreseeable harm to
8	Patient.
9	PRAYER
10	WHEREFORE, Complainant requests that a hearing be held on the matters herein alleged,
11	and that following the hearing, the Board issue a decision:
12	1. Revoking or suspending Psychology License No. Psy. 20996 issued to Christina
13	Villarreal, Ph.D.
14	2. Ordering Respondent to pay the reasonable costs of the investigation and
15	enforcement of this case, and if placed on probation, the costs of probation monitoring;
16	3. Taking such other and further action as the Board deems necessary and proper.
